III. BACKGROUND AND APPLICABLE LAW

6. On March 4, 2020, the Governor of West Virginia, Jim Justice, declared a statewide state of preparedness in West Virginia due to the Coronavirus. This declaration included the following language: “Finally, I hereby ORDER that it is unlawful for any person, business, or other entity to sell any food items, essential consumer items, and emergency supplies in a manner that violates the provisions of section three, article six J, chapter forty-six A of the Code of West Virginia.” See Exhibit 1. This declaration activated the provisions contained in W. Va. Code § 46A-6J-1, et seq. (“the Price Gouging Statute”).

7. On March 16, 2020, Governor Justice declared a statewide state of emergency in West Virginia. This declaration included the following language: “Further, I hereby ORDER that it is unlawful for any person, business, or other entity to sell any food items . . . in a manner that violates the provisions of section three, article six J, chapter forty-six A of the Code of West Virginia.” See Exhibit 2.

8. The Price Gouging Statute provides, in pertinent part, that:

it is unlawful for any person, contractor, business, or other entity to sell or offer to sell to any person in the area subject to the declaration any consumer food items . . . for a price greater than ten percent above the price charged by that person for those goods . . . on the tenth day immediately preceding the declaration of emergency state of preparedness, unless the increase in price is directly attributable to additional costs imposed on the seller by the supplier of the goods or directly attributable to additional costs for labor or materials used to provide the services: Provided, That in those situations where the increase in price is attributable to additional costs imposed by the seller's supplier or additional costs of providing the good or service during the state of emergency or state of preparedness, the price is no greater than ten percent above the total of the cost to the seller plus the markup customarily applied by the seller for that good or service in the usual course of business on the tenth day immediately preceding the declaration[.]

W. Va. Code § 46A-6J-3(a), emphasis added.

9. “State of preparedness” is defined to mean “the situation existing before a disaster or large-scale threat in which a state of preparedness has been declared by the Governor or by the Legislature pursuant to the provisions of section six, article five, chapter fifteen of this code.” W. Va. Code § 46A-6J-2(l).

10. “State of emergency” is defined to mean “the situation existing during or after the occurrence of a disaster or large-scale threat in which a state of emergency has been declared by the Governor or by the Legislature pursuant to the provisions of section six, article five, chapter fifteen of this code or in which a major disaster declaration or emergency declaration has been issued by the president of the United States pursuant to the provisions of 42 U.S.C. § 5122.” W. Va. Code § 46A-6J-2(k).

11. Pursuant to the Price Gouging Statute, it is unlawful for a person, business, or other entity to sell or offer to sell to any person any consumer food item “for a price greater than ten percent above the price charged by that person for those goods” on the 10th day immediately preceding the date the Governor declared a state of preparedness. 12. The General Definitions for the Consumer Credit Protection Act states “In addition to definitions appearing in subsequent articles, in this chapter: “Person” or “party” includes a natural person or an individual, and an organization.” W. Va. Code § 46A-1-102(31).

13. The prohibition against price gouging continues “for the existence of the state of emergency or state of preparedness or for thirty days following the declaration, whichever period is longer.” W. Va. Code § 46A-6J-3.

14. As of the date of the filing of this action, the Governor’s declared state of emergency continues

15. The 10th day immediately preceding the Governor’s declared state of preparedness was February 24, 2020.

See Dutt & Wagner price sheets, attached hereto and incorporated by reference as Exhibit 4.

19. This represents a price increase for Green Valley Farms Jumbo eggs of 267.54% from February 24, 2020 through March 30, 2020.

20. This represents a price increase for Green Valley Farms Extra Large eggs of 284.76% from February 24, 2020 through March 30, 2020.

21. This represents a price increase for Green Valley Farms Large eggs of 282.52% from February 24, 2020 through March 30, 2020.

22. This represents a price increase for Green Valley Farms Medium eggs of 297.46% from February 24, 2020 through March 30, 2020.

23. This represents a price increase for Green Valley Farms 2-Pack of 0.5 Dozen small eggs of 228.12% from February 24, 2020 through March 30, 2020.

24. This represents a price increase for Green Valley Farms Large Brown eggs of 234.86% from February 24, 2020 through March 30, 2020.

25. This represents a price increase for Green Valley Farms 1.5 Dozen packages of large eggs of 281.73% from February 24, 2020 through March 30, 2020.

26. This represents a price increase for Green Valley Farms for two 0.5 pack of large eggs of 267.85% from February 24, 2020 through March 30, 2020.

27. This represents a price increase for Green Valley Farms Jumbo Brown eggs of 240.29% from February 24, 2020 through March 30, 2020.

28. Dutt & Wagner did not raise prices for the more expensive cage-free eggs during the state of emergency.

29. From March 4, 2020 through at least April 4, 2020, Defendant sold shell eggs at the above-referenced prices to retail grocery stores in West Virginia.

30. These inflated prices were charged to retail sellers, distributors, and to end-use consumers at 34 locations in West Virginia, including A.F. Wendling's, Inc.; Barboza Produce; Bigley Avenue Piggly Wiggly; Blue Ridge Bee Company; Buzz Products; Corey Brothers; Cornerstone IGA; Crooks Produce; Davis Stuart; FasCheck in Campbell's Creek; FCI MacDowell; four Food Lion locations in Beckley, White Sulphur Springs, Summersville, and Sophia, WV; Gary's Market; Grant's Green Valley; Grant's Princeton; Grant's Glenwood; Grant's Bluewell; Grant's Oak Hill; Grant's Smithers; Grant's Supermarket in Bluefield, WV; Grant's War;; H.T. Hackney, Milton, WV; Jackson's Meat Shop; Risk Supermarket; Sledd Company; SS Logan; The Butcher Block; Tony's Quality Meats; and Tri-County Produce. These locations include, but may not be limited to, Cabell, Fayette, Greenbrier, Kanawha, Mason, McDowell, Mercer, Nicholas, Ohio, Raleigh, and Upshur Counties.

31. This inflated price constituted an increase of more than 200% over prices charged prior to the Governor's declaration of a state of preparedness.

32. The Defendant continued to charge consumers the inflated prices through at least April 4, 2020.

33. Dutt & Wagner increased its prices for eggs more than the 10% allowable increase in price after a declaration of a state of preparedness or state of emergency.

34. There was not a shortage of eggs that caused the price increase. The USDA March 23, 2020 “Agriculture Counts” report states:

United States egg production totaled 8.94 billion during February 2020, up 3 percent from last year. Production included 7.79 billion table eggs, and 1.15 billion hatching eggs, of which 1.07 billion were broiler-type and 81.3 million were egg type. The average number of layers during February 2020 totaled 397 million, down 2 percent from last year. February egg production per 100 layers was 2,254 eggs, up 5 percent from February 2019”¹

35. Dutt & Wagner has not indicated that any part of the increase in price was attributable to additional costs of providing the good or service during the state of emergency or state of preparedness.

36. Dutt & Wagner claims it follows the Urner Barry “market pricing” for eggs.

37. Urner Barry is not a market, but an organization that reports on trends in prices. Urner-Barry sells subscriptions to its reports through which it shares information with distributors, wholesalers and retail sellers. See Urner-Barry Data Submitter Policy, <https://bit.ly/3gi8v1z>.

38. Per Urner Barry’s website, it is a reporting service, described as:

Urner Barry is a business publisher specializing in the timely, accurate and unbiased reporting of market news and quotations to clients in the poultry, egg, meat, seafood and related segments of the food industry through a variety of print and non-print media.²

² <https://www.urnerbarry.com/Who-We-Are> “Our Story”

39. Use of the Urner Barry reported price for the sale price of eggs is not an exception to the limitations imposed by the Price Gouging Statute.
